“I'm very sorry for your loss... I know there are no words that help you at this time, but you just have to keep faith and understand that things just don't make sense sometimes! I have an 18 yr old brother, and I worry very much about him driving... I had a bad car accident myself when I was 16, where I died 3 times, but was able to be revived for some reason... But everything does happens for a reason, and that reason is forever unknown to us, most of the time... I'm so very sorry too, I never read the newspaper or watch the news, and I just happened to pick up the paper about 15 minutes ago, and saw the story! I would had came to the visitation if I had saw it earlier... God bless you all so very much!”
