“ Messed that up! Sorry! What I meant to say was bartering for those kitchen cabinets. She was quite a lady! I know you'll miss her just like I miss my mom. Love and prayers, Kande

“ Grandma, one of my better memories with you was when Bo, Blake and I would come over in the summer to help you with your lawn. I enjoyed those days soo much with you. We had a lot of laughter especially yelling at that big tree your neighbors had. Every week that tree would leave us a mess. Spending quality time with you that summer was a blessing to me. You taught me a lot especially about politics! I enjoyed every moment with you and I know papa is happy to have you with him now. It's probably the best birthday present he's ever had. I love you, and I will always be thinking about you. Love you!

“ Aunt Audrey - you were the only one I would tolerate calling me Carmie! I thank you for being like a second Mom to me when I would visit you as a child. I especially thank you for your comforting words and our talks when my Mom was in the hospital. You always had a welcoming shoulder and huge heart. Although I didn't see you very often - your hugs always made me feel like our last visit was yesterday. I love you and will miss you.

“ Too many memories to write - Hoping this poem I wrote 19 years ago for you, Mom, sums it all up... Two Quilts Each stitch was made with love and thought, Each color was chosen with care. This lovely piece of cloth would soon transform to something rare. She wrought a quilt to give to me upon the day I wed. I thought to gently pack it, but use it like she said. And lying underneath it, my heart with love, does fill. I'm wrapped in cloth smooth as her arms - quilting strong as her will. As time goes on with all life brings, and though a woman I've grown, this quilt has brought me comfort in the times I've felt alone. With newborn babies on my bed, this quilt, my sons had felt. I'd watch their tiny bodies rest - my heart would always melt. And then the joy of having a girl, a pleasure, now I see. So off she went to make a quilt for her sweet, sick grandbaby. My daughters start was rough and sharp, so different than I'd thought. Her grandma's quilt would give her strength - the fiber from which it's wrought. So as my little daughter slept in her NICU bed, I'd tuck the quilt her grandma made so softly by her head. All 3 of us will share the strength, though generations apart. These quilts my mother made for us are sewn into my heart. Love you forever, Mom Steph

“ Grandma, I'm really going to miss you. I have so many memories that have really started to come back to me. I remember going to your house in Cape all the time--the big meals at the dining room table, spending the night in the middle room, ice cream sundaes for breakfast, playing in your veggie garden and snapping green beans over the sink, playing downstairs with all the toys you had left from earlier years, making a glass mosaic with you in your craft room downstairs, late evenings when I couldn't sleep--you'd be in the other room playing solitaire, dining happy birthday to Jesus at Christmas time, and most of all your singing at church (grandpa too). I will never forget the two of you enthusiastically singing church hymns. One of my fondest memories. I'm going to miss you so much. I'm thankful you were able to meet Lily and spend some time with her. I will be sure to tell her about you and show her the pictures I have of you together. I love you very much and I know you are so happy now!

“ Grandma, I am glad that you are resting in peace and with grandpa on his birthday. I feel horrible that I didn't get to come down to Cape and see you and have you meet my fianc💎. I am glad that I have many great memories of you and cherished our lunch dates whenever I lived in Cape. I always knew I was in for a treat to hear what you had to say about current events and how strongly you felt about politics. I wish you could have made it to my wedding, but I can't wait to honor your life during the ceremony in June. Love you grandma!

“ I have had many memories of you and my favorite one was when I would go to your house during Christmas time and make cookies. Putting as many sprinkles and icing as I wanted to on the cookies was the best thing ever. You taught me how to mix icing together and made sure I spread it out nicely. I love you so much and will always miss you. Thank you for being such a wonderful Grandma! Love, Tiff

“ Hey Mom and Dad-It's December 10th, 2012, and I received a package from Bek containing several cards and letters that I had sent you over the years. I cried when I read them again, and then screamed and laughed just because you cared to save them. I hope that the two of you will enjoy your first Christmas together in 11 years. With Love, Deb

“ Hi dear sister. I know your spirit is in heaven now -- looking down on all of us. You are no longer tired and finally at peace and singing with the birds and walking through God's flower garden and enjoying all of His creation -only from a different perspective. (Oh by the way, please do not tell God how to garden. I think He has it down perfectly). Both you and Bob are looking down and smiling - knowing that you have an amazing family. All of your kids have shown you both much love in their own very special way. I, too, will miss you. I have many memories of our time together -- especially remembering when I was a little girl when every night you would read a Bible story and sing to me "Jesus Loves Me" and "God Loves Me Dearly". And then you did the same for your children. And perhaps their children will do the same for their children. How special and appropriate for these two songs to be apart of your service. And then there were the times I came to Texas and Oklahoma every summer for a visit. And I can't forget the time you encouraged me to check out the job potential in River Forest - you even drove up with me. You encouraged me to take the offer. These are just some of the special memories for me. Be at peace my dear sister - I know I'll see you again. I'll miss you Love Kathy

“ The pain of losing someone as important as a mom is something that we will never get use to because God's Word refers to death as 'the last enemy.' May your family find comfort as I have in knowing that our loving heavenly Father promises us that very soon he will bring our enemy 'to nothing.' (1Corinthians 15 :26) What a wonderful day that will be!

“ Dear Mom, It gives me comfort to know you're at peace in heaven with dad. I trully believe dad came for you, taking your hand from Becky's as if to say to us "It's okay. I'm here now. I've got mom. Everything's going to be okay." I want you to know how much I appreciate you teaching me to bake, how much I admired your "green thumb,"that true passion and skill for all plants, especially flowers, and to thank you for encouraging, especially when I was a little girl, my love for art (I still have my very first art book that you bougt me!). Mostly, I want to thank you and dad for my amazing brothers and sisters. I know you'll both still be present in our lives and give us guidance with a heavenly perspective and that, someday, we'll be reunited as a heavenly family. I love you!!!
