“ Dear Stephanie and Brian, I am so sorry for the loss of your son. Brayden will be watching over the 3 of you forever and always. Your little guardian angel will be standing next to the lord listening to your prayers. Words can't express the sorrow I feel for you right now. May you live each day full of his joyful memories. Your devoted life friend, Sara Smith

“ There are no words of comfort we have to offer, and can't imagine how you must feel. Please know that God IS with you and will never forsake you. You're precious son wasn't with you on earth as long as you would have liked, surely, but just as sure, you WILL be with him again. God's word is faithful about that promise. And Brayden is sooo happy right now. In the book "Heaven is for Real", we were reminded that we'll be full of joy when we see the 2 grandchildren we lost as well as all our family before us. God bless your family!

“ Those we have held in our arms for a little while, we hold in our hearts forever. I wish to extend my sincere condolences to you the loss of your percios son, Brayden Michael Rodgers, and my heart was pained to know you loss him in death. Nothing could be more devastating to parents than to lose their child. But, I just wanted to say that our loving God truly understands your pain and cares about you (1Peter 5:7) He yearns to reunite childen with their parents. He has already lovingly made provision to do so by means of the resurrection (John 5:28,29). He will wipe all your tear away and heal your broken hearts (Revelation 21:4, Psalm 147:3). As you treasure the memories of little Brayden, keep God's promises close to your heart, for they will surely come true (Titus 1:2). My Deepest Sympathy To You.
