

Christopher D. James

November 10, 1980 - October 4, 2016

Christopher D. James, 35, of Jackson died Tuesday, Oct. 4, 2016, at Southeast Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

He was born Nov. 10, 1980, in Cape Girardeau to Eddy D. and Bonnie Fehr James.

Chris was a diesel mechanic and also had worked for Procter & Gamble for the past three years. He loved to fish and hunt. Just being outdoors was his great passion in life. He loved his German shepherd, Kilo; country music and spending time with his nieces. But he may have been more known for his being a great cook than anything. In fact family and friends called him the ³Grill Master.² He attended Hanes Chapel.

Survivors include his parents of Jackson; his brother, Terry James, and his sister, Mandy James, both of Jackson.

Friends may call from 4 to 8 p.m. today at Ford and Sons Mount Auburn Chapel in Cape Girardeau.

Funeral service will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the funeral home.

Burial will be at Cape County Memorial Park Cemetery in Cape Girardeau.

In lieu of flowers, or in the event attendance at services isn't possible, memorial contributions may be donated through www.gofundme.com/ChrisJames-Jackson an online memorial fund set up to assist the family with funeral expenses.

Online condolences may be made at www.fordandsonsfuneralhome.com.

“ The time Chris, Kara, Amy and her boyfriend (don't recall his name now) drove to Panama City Beach to spend the week with us in the condo we owned. They had such a good time messing around on the beach, parasailing, eating seafood, laughing, joking. Chris really enjoyed the week. They were a couple of hours late arriving so Paul and I were standing out on the porch watching for them worried they had car trouble (in my car; we'd taken the truck)....not to worry as they were just poking around. Kara and Amy got mad at the two boyfriends when we went to Hooters and they were oogling the waitresses!

Another time on Black River, we had a great time floating and sitting around the campfire that evening.
