“ Aunt Clara Mae was a wonderful role model for a young girl growing up in the 50's and 60's. She always was ready for fun and quietly strong of character. She loved to sew and she loved her family. I will always carry wonderful memories of times at Pine Bluff with Uncle Bill and Aunt Clara Mae, cousins Gary and Margaret and also visiting cousin Jim. When the Arkansas Brays visited Scott City, we knew there would be lots of laughs with Uncle Bill's imaginary dog, and good food that the women would prepare. The political discussions that took place back then have shaped my own perspective and respect for differing opinions was on display when all got together in the living room at Grandma and Grandpa's. You will always live on, Aunt C in our hearts and memories.
