“ I will always remember how kind you were to me. I remember every BBQ and every family birthday party you had that you and Betty invited me to. I still remember the old days where your home was so welcoming and you and Betty treated me and my kids like family. I remember when you and Betty invited us to go camping and we had so much fun. You the only family in my life that treated me like family. Your charismatic personality will be missed. Everytime I hear Pink Floyd I think of you, THE MAN. Rest easy my friend. You will never be forgotten and always missed.
