His hobbies included movies, theatre, building and collecting science fiction models and memorabilia. Halloween was his favorite holiday and he enjoyed designing and setting up a haunted house at St. Mary Grade School every year his children attended school there.

His children and grandchildren were his pride and joy.

“ I was shocked and very, very sad to learn of Darren's passing. Such a nice guy. He and his buddies, Dave and Chuck, became a part of the family while they were attending SEMO and would drop in, often at mealtime, (I could usually feed them altho sometimes their luck was better than others!) to discuss more about Egypt w/my husband who was their teacher. A wonderful relationship developed between professor and these three friends that lasted long beyond their college years. My sincerest sympathy. Ruth Needle
