“ I was in the singles group at church for 6 years and Daisma was an active part of the group. We shared numerous fun times and I still have the wedding gift she gave me when I married my husband. She was always kind and sweet. This is a very sad loss.

“ I became friends with Dasima in 2018 when my husband and I moved to Cape. She was kind to me and didn't hesitate to kid me at times. This made her special. I loved her honesty, you knew where she stood. My prayers are with you dear family. I know she will be missed. She will definitely be missed here among her many friends. Prayers for you all.

I worked with Dasima as a telephone operator when I was in high school. I have played cards with her for many years. She loved playing "hand and foot" cards. We loved her bringing deserts to cards. She was so thoughtful and always had some for me to take home for my husband. She will certainly be missed at the table! May God give us all peace and comfort during this sad time!

Dasima was a good friend to me and my sister Pat. My mother in-law came to live with us for three and Dasima became a care giver for her while my husband and I worked. My mother in-law and Dasima hit it off from the start and became good friends. What a blessing Dasima was to our family.

Dasima and I have been friends for nearly 40 years. We were talking about that just a couple weeks ago. She asked me if I remembered that she was there when my grandson, Shawn, was born (he's 34 now) and said she remembered when my son (Tony) used to go out to eat with us before he could drive (he will be 50 his next birthday). We went on vacations together and she gave me a really hard time because we "always" got lost when I was driving (no GPS in those days and I have no sense of direction). On one of those trips we were in a small town, somewhere in Texas, late at night, and I locked her keys in the car. She let me know just how "dumb" she thought I was for doing that. Lol!! And no matter where we were, or how many we passed, we "always" had to stop at every Wal-Mart. She said they might have something different that they didn't have in the Cape Girardeau store. We have spent many, many hours together at church, playing cards or just hanging out with friends. I always saved turkey legs for her because she liked dark meat and I didn't. So many memories I could never list them all. Dasima was one of the people in my life that I knew would be there if I needed her. Her passing has left a big hold in my heart and I will miss her very much. Prayers for all of Dasima's family.

Dasima is one of the first people I met at Lynwood, and I got to know here over the past several years. I so appreciated her sense of humor and her down-to-earth attitude. She was a Godly woman who "lived her faith", and she will truly be missed by myself and so many other people. My condolences to her family.

I will miss my Aunt Sissy! Funny story...when we attended her retirement party, the presenter talked about Dasima...I had to ask my mom "who is Dasima"...you see, she was only know to us as Sissy! Her spunky personality, her matter of fact attitude, her laughter and her confidence in arguing her point even when we knew she was wrong! Such fond memories through the years. Now she is visiting again with my mom and fighting over who will get the last word in with her sister Loretta. I'm so fortunate to have had her in my life and will miss her terribly. Until we meet again...
