“ Dear Kate, I was sorry to read about your mothers death. My parents both died in 1979. I wouldn't wish that on anyone. My wife Margaret and I will celebrate our 41st wedding anniversary in August and both of us are still twitterpated. That allusion can be explained by remembering the movie Bambi by Walt Disney. We are both in good health for semi-old folks. We have two daughters Kristin Ramelle and Alyssa C. Browning. My only son is Robert Rhett and he works with me in my title company. He is invaluable to us in our business and like his younger sister he works hard and is very smart. Alyssa is a doctor and currently is receiving training in cardiology in Sacramento California. I'm sure that at her age your mother had led a full life but it is hard to lose a parent at any age. Drop me a line sometime if you feel like it and fill me in on your life and your SEMO days. Best wishes, Scott Browning 724 Watkins Drive Cape Girardeau, MO 63701

“ Nancy and Family, I loved talking so many times to your mother late at night when she couldn't sleep. She always had some neat little story to share. You could hear just how proud she was of her family. Dolly will certainly be missed. My prayers are with all of you at this time. Sincerely, Marcy Abernathy
