The greatest man Ive ever known. you will be missed everyday. Thank god i was able to learn the things I did before you died. I will always value you making me the person I am and showing me how to use my true talents. I wish you could be here to see the things I do and obstacles I have overcome. I hope there was no pain on the way out as it could not compare to the pain ahead for the people left behind.....dealing with your loss. You can rest easy in heaven knowing that nothing stands in the way of making you proud. I promise. I love you more than life itself.
