“ The memories are too many to share. Two that stand out are him trying to give Charlie and I money to elope. When we did get married he and the guys followed us about 50 miles toward our honeymoon. Great fun. Sent him for end pins for draperies in our new little house and he came back with diaper pins. We were going to need those too. I do still have them. Loved this man a lot and will really miss him even though I didn't see him often. He and Charlie were special friends.
