“ I am sorry for the loss of Judy. She was a blessing to be around. I knew Judy and Bob many many years ago, she and I were friends and spent a lot of time together. I am remembering a week end we spent together. We (Judy, Bob, Willard and I)drove to La Crosse WI to see her brother. I don't remember why, but she wanted to see her brother. We lost track of each other years ago, but I think of her every time I drive by the big yellow house on the corner. I do remember you Kim you were such a pretty girl. Sending blessings to you and your family. Marlene Sterling Sloan.

“ I think one of the things I loved the most about Judy is that she accepted everyone as they were and did not judge anyone, she was so easy to get along with and be friends with. She was easy to love. I loved her sense of humor, it makes me smile, and she could laugh at herself. and I would laugh with her. Her smile and laughter are unforgettable. I know she is smiling now. I will see you in eternity, Judy, and we can laugh again.
