“ My fondest memories of Mark were the times when we drove around in his car during college looking for oddities to take pictures of or write movies about. He had a gift for cheering me up when I needed it most. I will always remember his compassion and sincerity.

“ Mark was introspective, intelligent, funny, and knew exactly how to make those around him feel good about themselves. I talked to him just a few weeks ago about his engagement... I wish I were able to make it to the service, but my thoughts are with the family. He will be sorely missed. Please make sure his bears are present. It would make him happy.

“ I had Mark in several classes at Beloit. He was a student who gave everything, both in the classroom and out (our discussions in my office were marathon sessions on such topics as film, literature, and history). Mark had an intense energy that found expression in both classroom discussion and in his written work. I will miss him. My condolences to his parents and to his fiancée, April. Kosta
