“ My gosh !! I am very,very saddened to hear of my best of friends Mothers passing...God bless Marietta.Being assured of my own salvation,I know that Marietta is now in the home of her dreams and is now talking to one of her cherished friends...endlessly questioning them and telling it like it ..t I is...The most memorable and effe ctual thing that I was given by Marietta was a word of wisdom that I still hear ringing true...Marietta said,"Choices Troy, Choices"....How true that is even at this very moment...
To B-rad Branum....My dear friend,how I feel for you....May the silent echoes of life not bother you but remind you of the blessed parents you were given..know also that I share in this sorrow, yet,rejoice evermore in Marietta's victory of life everlasting,through Christ Jesus...I ask that if you have not found Him please hesitate not one minute more... With love and tears,M. Troy Young.

“ I grew up on Brookwood, too ... a few houses down. My mother and Mrs. Branum were good friends ... in fact, they knew each other in Sikeston, both mom and Mrs. Branum raised baby boys together. Mrs. Branum was a jolly soul, always had a good story to tell. I remember one time I was at her house and she was making peanut brittle. Well, the batch didn't turn out good, so she thought the birds would enjoy the nuts in it and she took it outside for them to have. Instead, a squirrel got hold of it and had a fit trying to get the soft brittle out of it's mouth. Mrs. Branum just chuckled at the sight of that squirrel and his brittle dilemma. She will certainly be missed.

“ My mother (Lucille (Rosenquist) Marshall and Mary Etta were life long friends. They grew up in Chaffee together. I had the wonderful experience of meeting her several times. We had just visited her last week (from Florida). She was a wonderful example of unselfish dedication to her husband, family, church and friends. She will be missed.

“ i grew up on Brookwood Dr. a few houses from Miss Mary Etta. She and my mother were very close friends so she was in our home often. We loved to hear Marry Etta stories! She was so funny. She was a really good cook. Her coconut cream pie was a favorite of our family. We loved Miss Mary Etta. She was a very special lady.
