“Mary was a mainstay for me at Christ Episcopal Church. I loved to hear her play. When my husband and I got married at CEC, there was no question about asking Mary to play at the service. I will miss her smile, and her humble thanks for anyone appreciating her talent. Cheryl and Dan Essner

“*Mary was a splendid organist for Centenary Church, and later First Presbyterian and Christ Episcopal, along with her outstanding service as organ and harpsichord teacher at the University. Cape Girardeau was much enriched and blessed by her contribution of classical and church music, and that of her husband, Gary. They both died far too young. Heartfelt sympathy to the boys.
