“ Although I did not have the pleasure of a friendship with Missy personally, I have been familiar with your family for years. The news of her passing has been such a shock to many. I just wanted to extend my sincere sympathy to all of her family, especially her children. May God be with you and help you during this very sad time.

“ Dear Missy, I am flooded with images of late night movies, left over pizza for breakfast, cruising Broadway, your parent's huge satellite TV dish in the back yard, HS graduation, dropping in on you at the storage sheds, your wedding, building your home with Jimmy, the birth of your 3 beautiful children, and the image most dear to my heart which is simply sitting at the table eating your homemade Mac-n-cheese...a warm, comfortable respite from a hectic day of school and work. Missy, thank you for playing a part in my life. I am sorry that my moving away and the passage of time lessened our connection. I thought there was plenty of time to reconnect when life slowed down. My mistake, please know that you and your family were often on my mind. You are gone but not forgotten. Much sympathy to your loving family and friends that I know are deeply grieving right now. Love your old friend, Tracy Robinson PS: I promise to watch some NASCAR just for you. GO DALE JR!!!!

“ Dear Pat and Family, Words cannot convey the sadness I feel for you and your family at the loss of your precious daughter. She was to young to leave this world, but we can only hope that God has something more in store for her. May his loving hand be on you and yours and give you the solace you need at this time.
