“ Many, many years ago before we knew about no kill shelters, we rescued a chocolate Labrador that presented us with 9 or so puppies. In our effort to find them good homes, Myra came to adopt the first little guy. The two young kids who had played with the cuddly pups daily got very upset over the reality of them leaving. She was wonderful in the fact that she immediately said "Oh but this little pup has a really important job to do. He has to go and keep a very lonely person company." So thanks to Myra's quick thinking all the other puppies went off into the world to do great "jobs".
Something I will never forget.
So sorry for your loss. It will leave a huge hole in your heart but hopefully this memory you may not have known about will fill a tiny space.
With love and sympathy,
Linda
