“ I have known Lee since we were teenagers in Phoenix. He was like the brother I never had. We reconnected in 2017 after a mutual friend told me Lee was now Nicole and that she wanted to talk to me. When we spoke on the phone for the first time after so many years, it was as if time had not passed. I have known about Nicki's death for several years, but I had no words for this loss. I often think of the Nicki and Lee that I knew. I miss them both and hope wherever they are that they are finally content.

“ I was married to Lee in the early 80's. He was so handsome and played a great electric guitar named Beth. So sorry to hear of his passing. RIP Lee

“ I knew Nicole many years ago, as a true friend and kind, sensitive person. She will be reminded that way.

“ Nichole, was fiesty, was loyal, was true to her word. I remember when she finally decided to clean her closet out of items from her past. She came to me to see if i could use any of it or knew anyone that could. We laughed and joked about how I had done the exact same thing with my clothing. I was so happy for her when she told me that night about how she would be getting the surgeries she desired, how it was going to be the best for her. Not long after that something happened, that caused her to put walls up, and it saddens me that know we never got to talk again. It saddens me that she felt that where we lived did not fully accept her, and family wasnt fully accepting of her. I wish I could have made it better for her. She will be missed.

“ I discovered Nichole to be an awesome creation of infinite worth. Imagine the courage it takes to swim upstream in a downstream world. Imagine how exhausting it can be at times. Living life as one believes is a powerful declaration of freedom. I hope family and friends find comfort.
