“ Keith, I think after all the time you had to see my mug this last week, that you know how I feel. I will miss Trish so much and I am still trying to process all of this. I just can't seem to do that. I'm sure you are having a much harder time with that, as well. You know I am here WHEN you need help with anything or, more importantly, should you just need someone to listen. I love you, always!
