“ Joretta and family, i was looking online and noticed the obituary for Paul, i was so sorry to hear of his passing. He was such a wonderful person and had a marvelous sense of humor, always kept you laughing. I remember the days we spent in Iberia with all of you, a wonderful time of fellowship. I miss those days. I will keep you and your family in my prayers and i think of you often.

“ My sympathy goes to Joretta, Clifton, and the rest of the family I really liked my first cousin, Paul Allee. So did many others. He had a great sense of humor and was an intriguing conversationalist. I am so glad that I had dinner with him and his wife, Joretta, in Cape Girardeau a couple of years ago. Paul reminded me that he had spent Marine boot camp at Paris Island, SC in the early 1950s. We had many things to talk about that evening. I will treasure those memories and--just like an Allee, Paul picked up the check. I could not persuade him otherwise. While in town, I visited the couple's antique shop and bought two beautiful art glass pieces. I will not part with them in this life--always a remembrance of Paul & Joretta.

In the 1960s I became acquainted with a couple of Paul Allee's students when he taught at Versailles High School, including one of his best students, Cindy Bolton. They loved his teaching style---he kept things lively and interesting and he was completely devoted to his students. As a Marine, I'm sure he kept good order in the classroom!

Paul Allee was a descendant of Revolutionary War Soldier David Allee, who became a Baptist preacher and, along with several members of his family, was one of the earliest pioneers of Cooper and Moniteau Counties in Missouri. May Paul J. Allee rest in peace.

“ So sorry for your loss. Your dads and my dads eyes would light up when they talked about the treasures they bought. When at auctions when i was young they would be there and i would see there joy in the buy. So your dad has been around me for awhile. He also would try and educate me in what exactly i had of my dads. He was so knowledgeable in so many areas. He loved you Clifton and your children. Saw him light up just as he did at auctions when he spoke of you and his grandchildren. My prayers are sent your way.

“ Mr. Allee was a great role model while growing up when visiting Clifton at their house. He was a perfect example of a great husband and father. He would always have something funny to say that would make me laugh. I learned more from him as a role model than he will ever know. He will be greatly missed.
