“ I know Paul was an excellent physician, anytime a crash occurred at the airport he was the first on the scene to provide first aid and comfort. The frequently repeated axiom around the airport was Paul practiced medicine to support his flying habit! Paul loved flying more than anyone I ever met, he flew from daylight to dark almost every day. He never met a stranger and was very generous with his time and treasure! Fly high my friend!

“ I met Paul in 1994 when he was flying for LifeBeat as a nurse. I ran into him again in 2020 working in the ER at Perry County together. We have relieved each other at least 2 days a week for the last 3 years. You will be deeply missed, friend. You leave a big empty space in all who were your friends.

“ Dr. Paul was a true success... as defined by Ralph Waldo Emerson.... “To know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded “....

“ The man would give you the shirt off his back in the middle of winter and not even ask for it back. In fact, he would forget he gave it away to you. His mentorship and kindness is now gone but his goodwill lives on in the countless pilot's lives he touched. Charles Goshen, fellow pilot and lucky friend.

“ I've been a friend of Paul's for more years than I can count. A fellow helicopter pilot, I've worked with Paul on some of his helicopter ratings. Few a Robinson R44 back from the factory in CA years ago with Paul. He was a great guy to be around and fly with. Like others, I will truly miss flying and talking with Paul. I was shocked and saddened by his sudden passing. What a great guy and friend. Like many pilots, he really loved flying, I mean REALLY loved flying. The aviation world is greatly diminished by his passing. Hope he's now flying in blue skys at high altitudes with the great aviators who went before him.

So sorry for your loss. We grew up with Paul and Bruce and their parents as neighbors for years, when we looked out our back window, their house was right there. Such a kind and loving family! God bless you all, Paul was such a nice person.
