September 24, 1967 - December 25, 2021

Randy Joe Green, 54, of Cape Girardeau, Missouri died Saturday, December 25, 2021 at Southeast Hospital.

In the days since Randy's passing all of the comments have been the same, "such a nice guy", "always so positive", "he never had a bad thing to say about anyone". That was Randy, always with a smile, a laugh, and always in a good mood it seemed. No matter what, Randy always looked on the bright side of everything. But most of all Randy was a good man. A sweet loving son, a protective and thoughtful brother, a loving and forgiving husband/boyfriend. A doting, loving, supportive and committed father, he loved his daughters with all he had. Randy was a great friend, co-worker, band mate and family member. He was a blessing to all who knew him, and a big loss to us all. If you hadn't seen Randy in a while, or didn't get the chance to say goodbye, don't worry, he loved enough for both of you. He really did. It's hard to define someone in a single paragraph. But in a quote, maybe Randy's final words to his sister were "I love you...it's gonna be alright". That was Randy, even in those final moments his concern was that everyone else was ok. Goodbye old friend and Godspeed.

Randy, you were a light in the lives of many. I really wish I'd had the chance to reunite with you; there's so many things we could have reminisced about. We had so much fun in Sunday school, church outings and just being friends. I wish I'd known of your love for music, for it's a love of mine as well. You will be greatly missed! But I'll see you again someday, until then...keep on flying.
