

Shaun Varro

March 8, 1980 - October 25, 2022

Shaun Michael Varro, 42, of Cape Girardeau, died Tuesday, October 25, 2022 at Barnes-Jewish Hospital in St. Louis.

He was born March 8, 1980 in Tarzana, California.

He was a great classic car restorer and restored boats and trucks. He loved attending car shows. He was very artistic. Shaun was the life of the party and loved spending time at the lake with friends and family.

Survivors include mother, Stephanie Varro of Cape Girardeau; two sons, Anthony Varro of Cape Girardeau, Korbyn Kuntze of Jackson; two daughters, Lyvia Ford of Dallas, Texas, Jalee Brumbaugh of Cape Girardeau; four brothers, Chance (Sara) Umfleet of Cape Girardeau, Cody (Jessica) Kinder of Cape Girardeau, Chris (Kierin) McManaman of Cape Girardeau, Emmanuel Ware of Cape Girardeau; and grandchild, Kartier Ford-Nelson.

He was preceded in death by maternal grandparents, Louis "Papa Lou" Varro and Isabelle Varro.

A memorial service will be at 5:00 pm Friday, October 28, 2022 at Ford & Sons Mt. Auburn Chapel in Cape Girardeau with the Brother Frank Burgess officiating. A celebration of life will follow at the Eagles Club in Cape Girardeau.

In lieu of flowers donations can be made to the family in care of Chance Umfleet, to help defray funeral expenses.

“ Hello again, everyone says the hurt goes away after a few years but it doesn't. There's this black corvette stingray on the street I live by, i think you'd like it. It wasn't a soft top and it had just the right amount of details just how you'd want it designed. I miss you so much Shaun, I started calling you my dad because when my own father couldn't step up and be a man in 11 years of my life you did in a year. You were such an amazing man and you inspire me so much. It doesn't hurt as much seeing corvettes but it still immediately makes me think about you. I'm sorry i didn't ask you to go to the hospital sooner, maybe you would've survived if I had just done one thing. I regret not hugging you tighter or trying to skip out on working on the boat because now that I'll never be able to do that with you again I wish I could go back and take a little longer to appreciate it. For my eleventh birthday you did everything to make sure I had a party and people there even when you knew i didn't have many friends. You never made me feel judged or like I was less than and you don't know how much that meant to me. Rest easy Shaun.

“ well you know I write you every year Shaun and its always the same I miss you and I love you but I really do. wess wife sent me a Facebook friend request and told me she was my dads friend. funny huh? going about lying and saying your my step dad to get into school and now people are saying your my dad. which I don't mind but yk. I have this friend tabi and everytime I hang out with her family it reminds me of you. they all huddle around a campfire and give thanks and I know you loved going on a boat and camping. you'd be surprised on how my life is going. but its good and I'm grateful to have you as my angel in heaven. its getting closer to the 25th and that really sucks. every year. I love you dad

“ Hey Shaun. It's been two years since you died. I miss you so much. Kilo died as well. My mom misses you and we both need your guidance. I'm always telling her not to get soggy but it's hard to now that your not here. We found my real dad. I think you'd sit in the Tahoe and make jokes on him. Nobody does it like you did. I don't want to be a mechanic anymore. I can't stand seeing a Corvette because it reminds me of you. I love you so much. It's so hard to make reality that your gone and I'll never see you in the flesh. I'll never hear your voice again. I'll never go help with the boat ever again.
