“ The night when Stan met his real brothers and sisters and their families. It was such a wonderful thing to see. Stan, his brothers , and sides stayed up all night to just talk and bring up things they remember when they were young. A very interesting weekend. RIP Stan.

My partner, Jerry and I, met Stan and Peggy last August when we were neighbors at the Cape Girardeau RV Park. We had just arrived in Cape after 2 years on the road in our RV. Jerry was born in Cape and after many years living in Las Vegas, we wanted a retirement home in a cooler, greener environment. Peggy and Stan were a big help to us in finding a home here. In the process we become good friends and got to know the Huber family.

Stan was a warm, bright, engaging storyteller and we had many conversations about politics and religion. I am saddened that we only had these last 12 months to spend in his company and we intend to be there for Peggy now and in the future. RIP, Stan.
