Suzanne was born on April 11, 1940 in Kennett Missouri and was raised in Kennett in a loving family and enjoyed the simple pleasures of the postwar era, spending time outside riding bikes, playing sports, and climbing trees and the excitement of rock and roll music. She was a high school cheerleader and played clarinet in the band. She loved travel and lived and worked in many places including Arkansas, Illinois and California. Her most fulfilling job was as an administrator in mental health. She spent the last 22 years of her life in the Cape Girardeau Missouri area encircled by her daughter, Robyn, and her family and her brother, Robert, and his family. In addition to love for her family, Suzanne had an enthusiasm for swimming, music, boating, and movies. She cherished her time with family and was always enthusiastic for outings, trips to the lake, beach, and weddings; or any gathering of family and friends. Suzanne loved to have fun.
