“ Uncle Bill wow to live as long as you did and all that stories that you told. You were an encyclopedia of information on worldly events. I would hear stories just about any topic and would think to myself how could this man from this small little town know so much? I wish we could have lived closer and visited more often but my memories of you will stay with me. I know your up in heaven telling stories, I just hope that they have beer and cigars up there. Your a good man, a great father and you will be sorely missed. Our deepest condolences Aunt Shirlene and family.

“ Mr Voerg always reminded me of my dad in many ways. His wife and family came first in his life. They shared the same first name, Bill. They both served in the military. They both were hard working blue collar laborers. They both loved baseball, cigars, and Stag beer. I was always welcomed in their home, always felt part of the family, and was treated as such. I loved traveling with Mr and Mrs Voerg and my "brother" D to play baseball games while jamming to Fleetwood Mac 8-track, never got old. The road trips to Memphis were the best and there was always ice cold "refreshments" after our games. I'll always cherish those memories and think of Mr Voerg and all the great stories he shared with us kids. To the family, please accept my sincere condolences and prayers. Your husband, dad, and grandpa was an amazing and generous man and will always be remembered. With Peace and Love, John DeBrock
